Editorial

Education has continued to evolve, diversify and extend its reach and coverage since the dawn of human history. To promote and express unique socio-cultural needs of the human, every nation has developed its own system of education. As the education is to be considered the backbone of any society, it is the most important input for individuals, societies and nations. Education inculcates required values, attitudes, essential skills and adequate knowledge. Now no nation can deny the role of education in its development. The nations with higher rate of literacy, quality of education and better educational infrastructure have made remarkable progress in standard of life, health care, judicious distribution of natural resources and thereby in total development of their social patterns. Due to this reason the education is regarded as most powerful instrument of social change. In this regards Kothari Commission (1964-66) has also observed that –'The destiny of India is now being shaped in her Classroom'. In the present digital world based on science and technology, it is education that determines the level of prosperity, welfare and security of peoples. Thus we can say that education act as a catalyst in socio-economic and political changes in the societies, worldwide.

Education, today has taken a new dimension, it is no more confined to four walls of school or colleges. It is preparing the students to take up all type of challenges and enabling them to work in every field of life. In this regard the journal in hand 'Nav Jyoti' stands for developing independent creative thinking among educators, academicians and researchers, who can see the bright side of life, and are able to face the challenges of world without forgetting our traditional cultural and moral values.

Keeping this aim in mind the journal 'Nav Jyoti' encourages academicians, research scholars and others along with their research and other related activities. It is also an attempt to give our voracious readers a motivation for their efforts and creativity. It gives an idea, how various types of activities and researches have an important place in the ocean of knowledge along with other academic activities. Here, I would like to quote J. Krishnamurti, who said- "Very few people wants to change the world and still fewer wants to change themselves because they are the centre of the world in which they live. And to bring about a change requires tremendous understanding."

With Best Wishes

-Dr. Surendra Pal
